

Survey of school education staff - Feasibility of long-term mobility

The European Commission's Directorate-General for Education and Culture (DG EAC) has asked Ecorys (www.ecorys.com) to carry out research to assess the feasibility of establishing a new EU action focused on school staff.

Longer-term mobility (defined here as lasting longer than six weeks) clearly presents a number of practical and financial challenges.

We are therefore inviting teachers and other school education staff to complete a short survey about a potential new long-term mobility action, so that we can take full account of the views of professionals across Europe. The survey will take 10 to 15 minutes to complete and will be available until July 2012
